

DARYL WRIGHT

With over 25 years of experience as a Chartered Accountant and business advisor, Daryl brings extensive experience and knowledge in business and taxation advice to small and medium business owners. He understands the challenges and triumphs of owning a business, having had a life long involvement in his own family's business. He is passionate about working with his clients to achieve business growth, profit improvement and better cash flow. He can also assist with asset protection strategies, and how to handle the eventual sale of your business or succession planning.

While he has experience in a range of industries he has a focus on property development and investment, building and construction, motor industry, professional services and online retail. He works with a comprehensive network of professional advisors to facilitate his clients' needs. Daryl prides himself on being accessible and responsive to his clients.

Daryl has developed innovative structuring solutions to minimise income tax, maximise capital gains tax concessions and protecting assets from litigation. He has extensive experience in working with the lawyers of his clients to achieve optimal estate planning solutions, protecting his clients and their children from matrimonial issues and unnecessary income tax.

Having obtained his Bachelor of Business (Accountancy) at Queensland University of Technology he has since become a Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia and New Zealand and a registered Tax Agent.

He has two gorgeous daughters who he shares with his wife of over 30 years, Christine. We are thrilled to have Daryl join CKG Partners as our newest partner. We know that he is going to add tremendous value to our team and clients.

When he isn't working you will find him fishing or relaxing at the beach.
